FACILITATOR:

Gloria Diaz, City of Vacaville Police Department

TOPIC:

What are some of the gaps and trends the Alliance is finding as they serve the “sheltered homeless” youth in our communities. “Sheltered homeless” defined as no stable long-term housing ex: hotels, shelters, garage.

GAPS

Home Base

- Affordable housing
- Housing for transitional, runaway or unaccompanied kids
- Tracking human trafficking

FRC- Vacaville

- Affordable Housing
- Resources to keep families housed
- Second chance program for folks with criminal record or low credit.
- More beds in shelters

TRENDS

Home Base

- Point in Time (PIT) count of homeless Solano county families has increased this year.

FRC- Vacaville

- 45% increase in rent in Vacaville. Landlords don’t take Section 8
- Landlords rather evict, not willing to work with families that are experiencing difficulties.
- Deposits have increased. Can’t afford to get into housing.
- More single parents, more families living out of cars.
- Places not taking support animals
| Vallejo Together
| Maria Guerava
| vallejotogether@gmail.com | GAPS | TRENDS
| --- | --- | ---
| • Need a navigation center
| • They have facilities but no funding. Some participants can't pass a drug test.
| • Only one shelter in Vallejo | • Drug and alcohol use is up
| | • Housing referrals- funding relationship between city and county is a challenge, not listening to the needs and offering a permanent solution (like more shelters)
| First Place for Youth
| Karim Calle
| kcalle@firstplaceforyouth.org |
| • Hard to find hotel for youth under 21
| • Lack of services for drug users.
| • Youth need support system other than their social worker (as they only have contact with them once a month)
| • HUD Section 8 gets cut off because there isn't a case worker to help them follow through with responsibilities
| • Not enough shelters in Solano county for transitional youth.
| • Many shelters have curfew which makes evening employment difficult
| • Transportation
| • Lack of resources for single males |
| Opportunity House
| Jolyn McMillan
| jolynm@opportunityhouse.us |
| • High Barrier program – doesn’t work for everyone.
| • Plans for affordable housing are years away.
| • Maintaining funding. Relies on donations/fundraising. No longer takes Housing First funding due to drug testing requirements. | • Housing is always an issue
| | • Drug and alcohol use
| | • Children’s safety
| Solano County Office of Education
| Nicola Parr
| nparr@solancoe.net |
| • Funding- Federal funding goes to CDE who distributes. Lost $75K because of competitive bid process.
| • Need case management services/ system navigation/advocacy
| • Training school office staff to identify McKinney Vento
| • Transportation
| • Emergency housing
| • Legislative platform for homeless youth
| • Resources for direct services/case management | • Self-Identification- hard to identify McKinney Vento
| |

Victory!
Governor Brown Signs Bill by Assemblymember Frazier to Make Child Care More Accessible in Solano

After over a year of grassroots advocacy efforts lead by Children’s Alliance community partners and our Local Child Care Planning Council, Governor Brown signed AB-377, which was authored by our Assemblyman Jim Frazier, D-Discovery Bay!

This legislation will provide needed relief to subsidized child care systems in our county and in San Diego, where the high cost of doing business leaves many child care programs struggling to keep their doors open, and many low-income families with limited options for quality child care.

AB377 will provide Solano with more flexibility in using state-allocated child care subsidy funds for low-income children. The current system, which undercompensates child care providers and underserves families in high cost of living counties, results in millions of dollars in child care subsidies returned to the state. Between 2012 and 2015, Solano returned $1,791, 849 to California’s General Fund.

This bill provides another powerful tool for early learning systems to ensure that every dollar allocated is spent and as many children as possible get the high-quality child care experience they deserve. By 2019, subsidy programs in our county will have the flexibility to increase income eligibility guidelines and serve more children, offer higher reimbursement rates to providers, and contract with programs that can fully use available subsidies.

AB-377 is modeled after successful local child care subsidy pilots implemented in Alameda, San Mateo and San Francisco Counties. Frazier said the pilot programs will help the state in its efforts to reform how child care funding is allocated.

For more information and to get involved in the creation of the Subsidy Pilot Plan, please contact our Local Child Care Planning Council Coordinator, Ericka Erickson, at eercikson@childnet.org
